

If you can only choose one show this year...

Quick Search: the words Advanced Search

Tuesday, March 31, 2009 | Sign In | Register

- Editorials
- Columnist
- Events Calendar
- Archives
- Subscriptions
- Reprints
- Order Back Issue
- Media Kit
- Classifieds
- Contact Us
- Market Place
- ReCo Survey

News

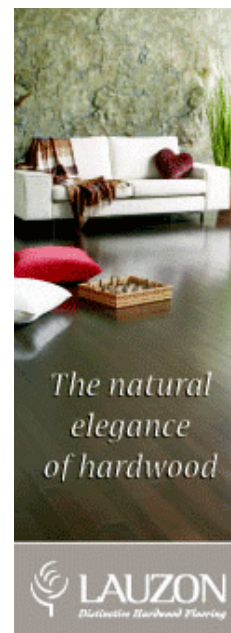

HomerWood introduces new finishes

printer friendly format email page

(3/30/2009)

[Titusville, Pa.] HomerWood is introducing Amish hand scraped, a nature-inspired character line of hardwood flooring. Amish hand scraped is a special collection of Character Grade flooring that offers a truly authentic distressed look because it is literally hand-scraped – one plank at a time – by actual Amish craftsmen in the tradition of Renaissance-era woodworking, according to the company.

"HomerWood is the original manufacturer of the trademarked, Character Grade high quality specialty plank flooring," says Erik Christensen, general manager, HomerWood. "No two floors are ever the same. This is part of their uniqueness and is one of the features that appeal to the consumer who seeks individuality."

Copyright© 2009 Floor Covering Weekly All rights reserved. | Privacy Policy

P: 516-229-3600 | F: 516-227-1342 |

50 Charles Lindbergh Blvd., Suite 100 Uniondale NY 11553

HEARST business media